NCTM's 100 Days of Professional Learning

The National Council of Teachers of Mathematics are celebrating their 100th anniversary with 100 Days of Professional Learning.

Their celebration continues this week with week with more free, live 60-minute webinars by selected speakers from the NCTM Centennial Annual Meeting & Exposition program.

Offerings include:

- Webinars taking place on 100 selected days leading up to October's NCTM 2020 Annual Meeting & Exposition

- Webinars have been announced into September, with more to come.
- Speakers and topics that are geared to meet all grade bands and interests.
- All webinars are recorded and made available the next day at nctm.org/100.
- You do not have to be a NCTM member to register for a free webinar or view a free recording.

Region 10's Summer Virtual Learning

The Region 10 Team has made adjustments to the annual Summer Roadshows in an effort to better serve educators throughout Region 10 in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Region 10 will provide virtual offerings to ensure educators have access to high-quality professional development in the safety of your own home.

Registration will open May 20th and sessions will be free for all participating cooperative members. This means free for Greenville ISD teachers!

Session links per content area are available at the website below. This site is under construction and will be updated regularly, so keep checking back for more opportunities.
